Maastricht: the city

Located on the border between the Netherlands and Belgium, Maastricht is one of the oldest cities in the Netherlands, which is reflected in the beautiful old architecture, from the medieval town ramparts, to the cobblestone paving of alleys and streets, seventeenth century facades and a Roman bridge.

Maastricht has everything a student could wish for: a beautiful historic city centre, countless numbers of inviting sidewalk cafés, pubs and restaurants, sports facilities and shops. Film, music and theatre fans will find a wealth of opportunities in Maastricht. There are also plenty of possibilities to take long, leisurely walks or to go mountain biking in the low green hills surrounding Maastricht. English is widely spoken in Maastricht, so you'll have no trouble communicating with the locals.

Maastricht is a truly European city. Not only was the important "Treaty of Maastricht" signed here in 1992, the city itself is located at an international crossroads and cities such as Brussels, Liège, Aachen, Cologne and Düsseldorf are within an hour's journey. Other major cities such as Amsterdam, Berlin, Paris and London are within reach.
